

Second Annual
Sonora Boulder Festival

Presented by the Sonora International Climbers Coalition

The City of Rocks State Park, New Mexico – October 28th to the 31st, 2005
Welcome to the second annual City of Rocks Bouldering Festival. The festival will be held at the City of Rocks State Park in New Mexico, three and a half hours east of Tucson, in-between Deming and Silver City. The fee to camp is $10 per night per vehicle, with showers, tables, and a pay phone at the park. The bouldering is so good, it is known as “Hueco without the politics”. A small diner is located north in Hurley, or Demming has all the normal accommodations, to include a Super Walmart and plenty of restaurants. Take a longer drive Sunday, and go north through Silver City, then up through the pine forests, to see the Gila Cliff Dwellings, or check out the hot springs just next door to the park. We will try and spread out over different camp sites for extra elbow room, but will consolidate for a group slack line and fire pit area. Bring climbing shoes for the rock, a lawn chair to enjoy the cool 5200’ elevation, and a telescope for the crystal clear night views of the sky.

Directions: Go East on I-10 into New Mexico, go through Lordsburg and on to Deming. When arriving into Deming, take 180 north (Exit 82A) to Silver City. Go about 26-29 miles north, then take right (East) on SR 61. Go about 3 miles east and you will see the park entrance. The park closes its gates at 9 o'clock P.M., so don't be late.
