Left Tucson 4:30 after proving to skeptics that the pontiac climb at 7:00. Arrived at top 12:10. We were detained some by the younger boys and Joe who is a photographer (several pictures on the way up with his moving picture camera.

Some of them of the bunch on the steep climb (Pictures ???)

One of the boys didn't make it all of the way. He stopped at the last ladder.

All I can say is, it's Wonderful, Colossal, Undescribable
We are some short of water. However we are not too thirsty now but may be upon reaching the car where we have plenty.

Five started from cabin at 9:30 AM One left, one lost, one sick, one dead tired (that's me - getting too old for this) and one still eager to go.

Sun warm, wind cool, somewhat hazy condition. One lost just arrive 1:45, rest of party arrived at 1:00-1:10 and 1:30.

AL HESSELBERG

A well worthwhile trip - view a true reward for the effort exerted. Nothing in life is cheap - nor is a view like this. The conditions quite hazy but still outstanding as is Baboquivari.

The ladder #2 was gone but we followed the cable up. It was a nice rock climb but will be worse going down.

The traveling company was thoroughly enjoyed as all love to hike. We all enjoyed it very much.

DALE ALLEN U of A

A trip such as this is one that I want to try only once. This is for 2 reasons, I am exhausted and it has left a lasting impression. Too bad we had to travel so light, we could use more food and water. The view is tremendous. I have never before scanned such an expanse.

AL HESSELBERG U of A

This was a wonderful hike with John, Dale & Al. As they said it is a little hazy but the view is tremendous, even if I am sick as _____

I dread going down.

Dec. 9, 1956

Left the house at 7:30. The sky was overcast and we thought that it was going to rain. Freezing to death, we started straight up the mountain disregarding the trail. We hit the trail after a short time & followed it up. At about 9:30 the sun broke through the overcast. We stopped & took pictures, then came on up. There is snow and ice covering almost everything and it is cold here. We brought food up and I am comfortable now.

KEN REID U of A

Ken and I made it up by 10:30 (left 7:30). We spent much time taking pictures. More snow than 3 weeks ago. Windy and quite cold. Most of the overcast is gone but still cloudy. Cannot see too far.
