Left Forestry Cabin at 9:30 AM, arrived on top at 12:30 PM.
Weather clear and warm. The three of us are waiting for our two pooped buddies. Where's Bob Brown anyway? Sure would like some Roma.

(Eber, where in hell did you hide the Roma)

Well, finally made it. Sprung a few odds & ends doing it though.

These hikes are hell when your woman gets a hold of you the night before. It's fun anyway.

When you are half way up you wonder why in hell am I doing this?
When you get up here you're glad you kept going.

Like man this "beat" made the scene via that strictly out of it southeast ridge, likewise. Great climb except for the pieces of glass littering the summit that looked like "Roma" bottles. Like man show some taste and leave Bourbon bottles next time.
