

4/17/77 U of A Ramblers.

Dean brought Jane & myself out here for about our 3rd attempt and the first not cancelled by snow, rain, etc. So we get to the end of Lion's Ledge and he informs me that I'm leading. So on my second climb of my life I led the SE Arête and made it. Great feeling! Great peak! I'll be back.

Sue Pfeiffer, where are you??

4/23/77

Here again for the 3rd time. I never believed it was possible. I'm only sorry my friends below didn't make it. Beautiful!
So far have made trip 5 ropes Hope I don't need one.
Thank you Dennis Durrell

Stayed night at Cummings Ranch & then up Parker Route to top at 11 am. Several hundred million tiny flies - almost as bad as the No-See-Ums.

Beautiful view

First time up. Ripped seat of my pants is only casualty, I'm happy to read here that it gets easier everytime to climb Babo! Happy the "gods" were kind anyway. What a shergila this whole ordeal is.

Barbara Hayes #1

Beautiful view... if you can see through the swarms of gnats

On I'itoi's Mountain after looking at it nearly 5 years.
Trouble is, Babo is the best view to Southern Arizona.
Up the NE side & should have roped

My second ascent - looks like I would learn at 68 - Ben Avery

May 29, 1977: Ben Avery dragged me up here - all 46 years old worth. We roped it. The perfect Sunday - a memorial day to remember.
We're sharing the summit with the gnats.

Bunny Fontana

May 29 - second time up - much easier.
gnats drive you crazy Jeffrey + stars

May 29-77 - It was a ~~tough~~ tough climb, but it was worth it.

Finally accomplished one of ^{my} goals.
Made this climb for my wife Florence, my children, Monica, Mike, & Mark.
Thank you I'itoi, God of the

A Touch of Magic
A Touch of Grace

- For:
- 1) Francis
 - 2) My Bride
 - 3) the Swiss
 - 4) A New Mexico must/rat
 - 5) The winds

Put down what he said - buggy, all it's cloudy & cool - beautiful. It will come again. It may not.

Good bye - Magic Mountain

Surrounded by rain but dry here. Beautiful as usual.

George Simons

Glad my arm was twisted into coming up here - feeling really mellow. Thanks for the twisting Myrtle - Elaine Darpine ~~out!~~

Maisha will be all the way up, one day - she did the 2nd pitch with no rope! Intend to race the rain around the south side, retrieve our gear on the ledge, and scamper for the ranch
