

I thank time for revealing this face. Looking to the east and thousands of drainages that come together to flow Northeast really puts the mountain into perspective; how amazing that the surrounding plains were once level with this summit.

I also must thank the Tohono O'odham people for allowing us to climb this sacred peak. * Many tribes have restricted access to the sacred mountains, but these people must realize that in climbing there too lies a greater communion.

I will also thank the weather for being perfect, the snow on ledges to wet my parched mouth, and my partner Jeff Rainey.

December 12, 2004

Joe Trudeau, Flagstaff

via: Cloud Man got angry, Born of H₂O

Words cannot do justice to this experience.

That ^{same} ~~same~~ ^{-com!}

-Jeff Rainey 12/12/04
same route as above

December 28, 2004

Ascended SE Arette - awesome
very windy, weather-changing constantly, Adam Elliott of Flagstaff led all pitches.
we are HIGH, exuberant,
full of life & grateful for all we have

Ros Elliott
Flagstaff AZ

Father + Son trip
24 + 60. So glad to have done
this with him.

Adam Elliott
Eugene OR.

LOVIN' the granite (~~DIAPYRITIC~~ FELSITE)
L. Tucker
& Court "Crash" Phillips

TO BAD WE MISSED THE CRASH MAN PHILLIPS. - ~~ROSE~~ I FINALLY PUT DOWN THOSE BREST'S AND WENT CLIMBING
MINUS ONE FINGER - COURT

Montana

2/28/05

Micah Nelson, Kyle Scharfe

-Talk Minus Action = Zero

Stellar route good fun!

2/28/05

Rob N Evans, Aron, Eric Drogowski
At last a summit together (by Rob or not by Rob) after 10 years! Ice + water all the way but no gun.

One million
forever

Done

Scouting for Michael Back in 18

Eric Drogowski
Richmond Indiana